I have a interest in setting up a free image hosting site for my own site. I looked at one that would host images for my site and I liked it. When I went to the support forum for my site, there were a number of posts from users who were having problems with their hosting provider's free services. There was a discussion of why free hosting was bad and the need to pay for service. There was also a suggestion to build a free hosting site that would be more... Technology Ethics and Internet Use - Ethical issues in the digital age (1-hour) Intro to Internet Ethics The Internet has been growing and evolving since its creation in the late 1960s. More and more people are using the Internet for email, surfing the Web, and shopping online. This new technology is so amazing that almost every company has incorporated its use into their business. The technology helps us save time and money, but there are some things that are important to consider when using the Internet. Internet Ethics- Black Hat vs. White Hat The Internet is a computer network that is run on a system of computers. Computers can be divided into two different types: black hat and white hat.

Black hat computers are not connected to the Internet and are not accessible by the public.

White hat computers are connected to the Internet, and are accessible by the public. In the legal community, a white hat is called a white knight because, unlike a black hat, a white hat doesn't seek illegal information about other people or companies.

Technological advancements have changed the way people communicate. The Internet has made it possible to spread information and communicate worldwide. The Internet has made it easier for people to share music, pictures, videos, and technology. But people also have more information about each other than ever before. With the Internet, we have more access to our families, friends, and enemies. People have the opportunity to read things about people they don't know, and this can be done without people knowing that they are reading about them. This scenario is called phishing. Phishing is the act of sending emails that look legitimate and look like they came from someone you know. These emails can be sent to you by someone you know, but are pretending to be from a company you trust. These emails may ask for information like bank account passwords, social security numbers, or passwords to your computer or wireless network. When you click on the link in the email to see what the company or person you think you are dealing

---
