3. Headlights That Illuminate the Path

The Grand Cherokee's headlights aren't just functional – they're design statements. Across various generations, these lights have taken on different forms, from classic round shapes to more angular and modern interpretations. However, one thing remains constant: their ability to light up the road ahead with both style and substance.

At the forefront of the Grand Cherokee's exterior is its unmistakable grille. The seven-slot design pays homage to Jeep's storied history while giving the vehicle a strong and assertive front end.
